Ffynnon (objectives)

- The Ffynnon programme is an enabler and driver of collaborative working, improving performance and knowledge management, accountability and service standards in public services in Wales
- A unique opportunity to create a performance management community and culture within and across the public sector

“Organisations now have the flexibility to track and drive forward their performance and to share their information for the benefit of all. Working in this way we have the potential to deliver huge gains in the performance of front line public services in Wales.”

Minister for Social Justice and Local Government
